The Thoracic Surgery Foundation Announces “Top 20” Institutional Honor Roll

Twenty institutions top the list for the most cardiothoracic surgery research and education grants funded by TSF

CHICAGO, IL (July 14, 2020) – The Thoracic Surgery Foundation (TSF) has announced its “Top 20” Institutional Honor Roll for 2020. TSF, which is the charitable arm of The Society of Thoracic Surgeons (STS), provides awards for cardiothoracic surgery research, education, leadership, and surgical outreach in underserved patients. So far in 2020, the Foundation has distributed $1,047,500 in awards and scholarships. The TSF “Top 20” most funded institutions since 1993 are:

- | | |
|---|------------------------------------|
| #1 University of Pittsburgh | #11 University of Michigan |
| #2 University of Pennsylvania | #12 Brigham & Women’s Hospital |
| #3 Washington University | #13 Baylor College of Medicine |
| #4 University of California San Francisco | #14 Massachusetts General Hospital |
| #5 Johns Hopkins Medical Center | #15 Medical College of Wisconsin |
| #6 University of Washington | #16 University of Colorado |
| #7 University of Virginia | #17 University of Cincinnati |
| #8 Stanford University | #18 Roswell Park Cancer Center |
| #9 University of California – Los Angeles | #19 Columbia University |
| #10 University of Toronto | #20 University of Maryland |

“We want to congratulate each of these institutions for achieving TSF Top 20 Honor Roll status. This status signals the strength of their cardiothoracic surgery programs, faculty, and staff,” said TSF President Joseph E. Bavaria, MD. “Each TSF funding application is thoroughly analyzed and scored by rigorous peer review, without bias or conflict of interest. The TSF Research Committee is composed of more than 40 appointed surgeon-scientist leaders who are actively practicing at medical institutions across the U.S. and Canada. The contributions of award recipients at these Top 20 institutions to cardiothoracic surgery and our patients is significant.”

The Foundation’s 2021 Award cycle launched on July 1, 2020. TSF enthusiastically welcomes applications from qualified cardiothoracic surgeons and residents, employed at any institution with a cardiothoracic surgery program. Award offerings and applications can be accessed at www.thoracicsurgeryfoundation.org/awards. The deadline for 2021 TSF Award applications is September 15, 2020.
